SIERRA MADRE, CALIF. THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1950

VOL. 45. NO. 1

Around the Square

Well, we might as well get into it too. Pasadena's City School Board is faced this week with making a vital decision—a decision which may set back Pasadena's nationally-lauded school system 20 years.

With the entire nation's attention focused on the outcome, the Pasadena School Board—four of the five members, at any rate—must decide whether it will follow the pleadings of a noisy minority or the seasoned counsel of the majority will.

And don't forget that Sierra Madre is directly concerned. We have approximately 500 local students attending junior high schools and junior colleges in Pasadena.

One of our newer City Councilmen was so absorbed in chasing down election returns last week that he walked off with the car keys belonging to Dorothy Murphy, city stenographer who was tallying votes. After all ballots had been checked in—shortly after 4 a. m., Wednesday—she found she had to walk home.

What's happened to our culture? While many cities already have completed arrangements for their coming seasons of Community Concerts, Sierra Madre's committee has been strangely silent on the subject.

City Clerk Lawrence (Buzz) Brain has had a trying time lately. Last week he sprained his ankle, then on Monday night he came down with a cold. But he was at the Council meeting Tuesday night anyway—equipped with a crutch, several handkerchiefs, and a bottle of Vicks.

Sierra Madre got off to a good start in the X-Ray Survey with 362 x-rays taken on Tuesday. Technician Marvin Wright said our first-day total was within 10 of the previous "best effort" recorded by his particular unit at Aerojet. Let's keep up the fine work.

Extra Care Needed During Rainy Days

With the start of rainy weather, Chief of Police Gordon G. McMillan this week called on motorists to be extra careful.

"In wet weather, at least two new hazards are added to driving," Chief McMillan said. "Visibility is greatly decreased and streets, of course, become dangerously slippery."

State to 'Muster In' Security Corps Men

The California Defense and Security Corps will be officially mustered into state service Monday night, Nov. 20. The ceremony will take place at 8 p. m. at the Monrovia Armory, 843 E. Olive street.

The mustering of men will be on a battalion level, consisting of men from Arcadia as Company A; from Sierra Madre as Company B; Highland Park, Company C; and El Monte, Company D.

Attending the ceremony will be Commanding General Ivan Foster and staff, together with city officials from each of the four cities. It is expected that a large crowd of townspersons will be present.

The CD and SC is the state organization which was established in October of 1949 for the purpose of creating a state militia to act in case the National Guard ever was called to active duty. When the Guard reported for active duty on Sept. 1, it became the responsibility of CD and SC men to perform the former duties of the Guard.

These men will serve only when called upon to do so by

DON'T DELAY, X-RAY is the advice given Sierra Madreans this week by local and county workers as the X-Ray Survey comes to town for a five-day visit, ending Saturday, Nov. 18. Pictured at Mobile Chest X-Ray Unit parked in front of the Bank of Sierra Madre are (left to right) Rose N. Wood and Harriet McIntosh, unit clerks; Wright Robinson and Marvin Wright, technicians; R. C. Lewis, Sierra Madre survey chairman; Mrs. P. R. Woodworth, president of the Coordinating Council which arranged for local hostesses throughout the week; and Mrs. Grace Kehnroth, former resident, returned for a visit and one of the first to be x-rayed, and Mrs. Marjorie Golden, Nursery School. Only Three Days Left For Free Chest X-rays

Sierra Madreans this week are getting the "inside stories" on themselves.

Hundreds of residents already have had their free chest x-rays taken, and many hundreds more are expected before the County X-Ray Survey ends its Sierra Madre visit Saturday, Nov. 18.

A mobile x-ray unit has been stationed in front of the Bank of Sierra Madre since Tuesday, with technicians and local business hostesses on duty daily between the hours of 9:30 and 5:30.

On Saturday, the last day of the survey here, an additional machine will be set up in the Canyon, in the parking lot opposite the Canyon Grocery Store.

"It only takes a minute or so," R. C. Lewis, Sierra Madre chairman, said yesterday. "And the x-rays are an accurate confidential way of making certain you don't have tuberculosis. If your x-ray does show signs of TB or other chest diseases, however, you have a good chance of checking the trouble before it gets to a more advanced stage."

Throughout the week, postal cards asking for listing of residents were sent out several weeks ago, and the return on these cards has been nearly 100 per cent, according to Chamber Director Peter Ward.

A short history of the city, refuse collection data, bus schedules, a listing of clubs, organizations, and churches of the city are a few of the many sections in the booklet.

On Tuesday, 362 Sierra Madreans were x-rayed. Goal of the county-wide survey is to x-ray three million persons 15 years of age and older. Results of the chest pictures will be mailed to residents within three or four weeks.

Rose Parade Float Plans Due Monday

Plans for Sierra Madre's 1951 Rose Parade float will be made at a meeting Monday night, Nov. 20.

Al E. Morgan, co-chairman of the float committee, said 36 leaders of civic organizations have been invited to represent their groups at the meeting.

Out of the session will come appointments to the four float sub-committees: decorations, construction, finance, and food (for volunteer float workers on New Years' Eve).

Mr. Morgan said five local organizations will select the five girls to ride on Sierra Madre's parade entry which will depict a "Horn of Plenty." As in years past, designer of the float is Artist Alfred James Dewey.

NEAR INJURY STIRS CITY TO ACTION ON BALL PARK

City Studies Request to Rent Nursery

A request for permission to rent the Community Nursery School building for conducting a square dancing class was referred to City Attorney T. Guy Cornyn Tuesday night.

The Nursery School had passed on to the City Council a request from Harvey (Duke) Wellington to rent the building for holding a class once a week beginning in January.

Although the Council took no action, the Council made a recommendation by Mr. Cornyn. Councilman Noren Eaton expressed the opinion that taxfree city property should not be used for profit. Mr. Eaton said he is assuming that an instruction fee is proposed by Mr. Wellington.

Judge's 'Request' More Convincing

A local man's request for money was persuasive Tuesday night, but Judge John C. Mead's "request" for payment of a $50 fine was even more convincing Wednesday morning.

Charles Thomas Foster, 44 Windsor Lane, was arrested and jailed Tuesday evening on charges of battery. His wife accused him of beating her up after he demanded some money and was told:

"Here's a dollar; that's all I can spare."

Judge Mead fined Foster $50 and suspended a 30-day jail sentence.

COUNCILMEN VOTE $70 FOR FIELD BACKSTOP

To prevent possible injury claims, the City Council Tuesday night authorized spending $70 for a net and pole enclosure to halt foul balls at the city ball park.

The action, which was first proposed more than five months ago by the Recreation Commission came this week after a strongly-worded protest was received from a resident living adjacent to the field, Bryant Burton, 224 Cabrillo Road.

Mr. Burton charged that a "foul tip" crashed into his back yard during Sunday afternoon's pre-game practice, missing his 3-year-old daughter by only 12 inches.

He declared that the city would be responsible for manslaughter if the child had been hit and fatally injured. He suggested that the Council be held derelict for failing to take action on the matter in view of the fact that his first letter had been sent five months before.

Recreation Commission Chairman Al E. Morgan pointed out Tuesday night that the commission had requested certain work necessary for eliminating the danger from hardhit baseballs. He said the city already has a large investment in the field and that the proposed safety measures could be done "at a nominal cost" since the VFW is willing to install the barrier.

"We have a good team, and crowds at the Sunday games are growing larger every week," Mr. Morgan stated. "A league of junior ball players for Saturday games also is planned."

FUND DRIVE WORKERS DIG IN TO REACH GOAL

Pessimism gave way to dogged determination this week as Sierra Madre Community Fund Drive leaders and workers dug in to "reach the quota—or else."

Dr. Milton Valois, acting drive chairman, termed progress in the campaign as "very, very slow" and announced (yesterday) that they are still $1200 short of the $4609.41 goal—the amount necessary to help finance seven local organizations and services.

He called upon all Sierra Madreans to "pitch in" and help make the drive a success, stating that support of local Community organizations is an obligation every citizen should share."

The Kiwanis Club, sponsoring organization of the Community Fund Drive, Tuesday appointed an eight-man committee to help in "mop-up" phases of the campaign.

City Attorney T. Guy Cornyn Tuesday night was instructed to protest California Water and Telephone Company's latest application for a rate increase.

Sierra Madre officially had urged the State Public Utilities Commission to deny a previous rate increase request "until the telephone service is improved." Decision on this application still is pending.

The telephone company's most recent request is for an additional $157,000 to be spread over Southland communities, including Sierra Madre and Monrovia. A hearing on this application was scheduled for yesterday.

In asking a new rate boost, the telephone company points out that it has entered into agreements with its employees involving wage increases of $55,600 for the year, beginning Nov. 1, 1950. Corporate tax increase also will amount to approximately $60,000 more annually, and improvements in the telephone company's plants are expected to cost an additional $3,000,000.

Educators to Discuss Parent-Child Relations

Taking a common question as their topic, "What Makes My Child Act That Way," two experts from the Los Angeles County Schools will conduct a forum in parent-child relations Tuesday night, Nov. 21, at the Sierra Madre Community Nursery School, 701 E. Sierra Madre boulevard. The meeting begins at 8 p. m. and is open to the public.

Joint leaders of the discussion will be Dr. William J. Stone, director and general consultant in human relations for the county schools, and Dr. Harry Smallenburg, director of educational research and guidance for the county schools.

Both men, recognized nationally in their fields, will give practical pointers for the better understanding and guidance of children and will answer questions from the floor.

A capacity crowd Tuesday will guarantee the series," Mr. Bartel said.

City Superintendent Charles A. Skutt also urged parents to attend the meeting. A social hour will follow the program, with refreshments served by the Nursery School's hospitality committee.

LEWIS FLIES TO FRISCO, ATTENDS
BANKERS' MEETING

R. C. Lewis, president of the Bank of Sierra Madre, had a busy day last Thursday.

He left by air lines shortly after breakfast to attend a meeting of the California Bankers Association's commission on legislation and taxation held at the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco.

Mr. Lewis was back in Sierra Madre before supper time on Thursday night. He says he spent more time in riding to and from the two airports than he did in actual flying time.

Florence Eakman Successful
In Writing for Young People

Writing for juvenile publications has proven very fruitful for Mrs. Florence Eakman of 194 Mariposa.

Mrs. Eakman, who does remedial tutoring in reading at her home for grammar school age pupils, has sold verse articles and fiction to such outstanding publications as Child Life, Jack and Jill, Highlights and Children's Activities.

An article telling of her experience in teaching a 7 1/2-year-old Latvian boy to speak English will soon be published by the National Parent-Teachers' Magazine. The boy could not speak a word of English upon his arrival here, but after seven weeks of study with Mrs. Eakman, was able to enter the third grade.

In January, Mrs. Eakman's personal story will appear in the Maren Elwood publication, Vision and Revision.

Besides a natural talent for juvenile writing, Mrs. Eakman's success is also due to her constant interest and work with children.

What Next?

Even Jail
Costs Soar

Boarding city prisoners at the County Jail became more expensive last week as the City Council signed a new contract with the county.

Under the agreement, Sierra Madre will pay the county $1.57 per day for male prisoners and $2.32 per day for female prisoners confined in the County Jail. Previously, a flat rate of 95 cents a day for both sexes had been the rule.

County officials had requested the rate boost on recommendation of the county auditor as to what the actual cost of feeding and housing prisoners is per day. It was not explained why women are more expensive to "board" than men.

The new contract applies only to persons convicted of city ordinance violations, not state law violators.

Presbyterians

Troop 4

Sponsorship of Boy Scout Troop 4 has been assumed by Trinity Presbyterian Church, it was announced this week by Shannon Marshall, member of the church Board of Elders.

Troop 4 will continue to meet on Monday evenings, but new meeting site will be the Youth Hut.

Sponsorship of the troop recently was relinquished by VFW Post 3200 because of its inability to procure adequate, active leadership for the boys, according to R. W. Lees, district Scouting committee member.

Mr. Lees said present members of the troop will be re-registered and that additional boys of Scout age are invited to join the troop.

"Twelve miles south (of Geneva.)

That's all the "address" a New York postman had to go by when delivering mail back in 1814. And the letter usually was delivered to the right man.

Edmund Ledyard, NEWS compositor, now has one of these ancient letters in his possession. It was sent to his great uncle, Samuel Hough, on June 9, 1814.

In those days, of course, no stamps were used and there were no envelopes in the usual sense of the word. Instead, the writing paper itself was folded over and sealed.

Written on the face of the letter was this:

"Mr. Samuel Hough, twelve miles south, Geneva, Ontario County, State of New York."

Field School Holds Grade Level Talks

Parent-Teacher Association grade level and room conferences, held three nights last week at Eugene Field School, gave parents an insight into the problems and objectives of teachers in dealing with their pupils.

In explaining the various tests and achievement records of the elementary school child, Principal J. R. Haworth pointed out that modern teaching recognizes the fact that a child worried and frustrated by failures and fears of failures is unable to learn.

"Especially in the primary grades, therefore, all stigmas of poor and good work, slow and fast students are removed," Mr. Haworth said. "Instead, the student is urged only to do the work of which he is capable and interested in."

The educator said that possibly because of this attitude, the primary level of Pasadena school children falls slightly below the national level.

"However, this is more than rectified when the happy, well-adjusted and confident child reaches the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades," Mr. Haworth said.

Kiwanis Club to Help Sponsor Television Show

The Sierra Madre Kiwanis Club has joined with clubs throughout Southern California to sponsor a television program designed to combat communism and state socialism.

The full-hour program, "Television of the Air," is telecast on Tuesdays, 9 p. m., over Channel 5 (KTLA). An estimated 220,000 Californians view the show each week.

Local Kiwanians are assessing themselves 50 cents each week for 13 weeks to help sponsor the show. It is planned that films of the weekly telecast will be made available to Kiwanis Clubs elsewhere in the nation for rebroadcasting.

New Play to Open Monday at Biltmore

Macaulay Attends Sacramento Confab

"Come Back Little Sheba," a new play from the pen of William Inge, produced by the Theater Guild and starring Shirley Booth and Sidney Blackmer, will come to the Biltmore Theater, Los Angeles, for an engagement of two weeks starting Monday, Nov. 20.

There will be special matinees on Saturdays and Wednesdays. The author states that his play is an endorsement of Henry David Thoreau's conviction that "we all live lives of quiet desperation."

Building Activity Falls Off Slightly During Past Month

While falling off slightly from September, building activity in Sierra Madre last month still was nearly three times that of October, 1949.

City Building Inspector William Lees blamed the drop off on "uncertain world affairs, unstable construction costs, and big tax bills." During the month, building permits amounting to $108,293.50 were issued, as compared with $115,162 during September. In October, 1949, the figure was only $42,101.

Permits for more than $500 were issued to William B. Ford, to build a duplex at 755 Skylane Drive, a permit for $24,000; C. A. Jerchon, to build a house and garage at 51 E. Orange Grove, permit for $15,000; C. R. Faster, to build a house and garage at 321 E. Montecito, permit for $13,000; C. G. Taylor, to construct a house and garage, $5000; John Beard, to alter his residence at 451 W. Grandview, $3500.

E. C. Rothenberger, to construct a dwelling on Montevista Lane, $16,500; Mrs. M. Burgess, to alter two bathrooms at her home, 322 Auburn avenue, $2500; Kasimir Sondorowicz, to build a house at 460 N. Sunnyside, $9000; A. Phillips, to alter a garage at 170 S. Michillinda, $500; Ross Fowler, to remodel a residence at 380 N. Lima, $2000;

C. F. Burmeister, to build a house at 274 W. Laurel, $4000; John Gandy, to alter a dwelling at 490 E. Highland, $600; Lillian Clark Roess, to erect a two-car garage at 261 N. Adams, $600; J. E. Graham, to alter a house at 66 E. Laurel, $800; A. L. Suman, to erect a cottage at 370 Cypress Court, $2000;

The early resident also was one of the founders and the first president of the First National Bank, now the Bank of Sierra Madre. He sold out most of his property here in the 1930's and moved to Los Angeles where he died yesterday.

Mr. Kersting is survived by a daughter, Miss Katherine Kersting of Sierra Madre, and a sister living in Detroit, Michigan. He was born on Nov. 13, 1874, at Mt. Clemens, Michigan.

Private funeral services will be held Friday at Forest Lawn.

LUMBER HARVEST

Timber is a crop. It is our only natural resource that can be renewed as it is harvested.

More land is being used to grow trees than ever before. For the first time in forest history, the growth of trees of all sizes exceeds man's removal of trees for all causes. Only loss by fire, insects and disease prevents our forest growth from equalling our present use of trees for timber commodities.

Continued improvements in forestry management are increasing our annual tree growth and reducing our losses by fire and other causes so that future generations can enjoy a perpetual tree harvest. We are thankful that modern forest methods are making it possible for us to continue to serve you for many years to come.

The Councilmen voted approval of the $70 expenditure, which will pay for two 24-foot steel pipes over which tuna netting will be stretched. The backstop will completely cover homeplate and the side facing Mr. Burton's property.

Mr. Shepherd estimated that the enclosure could be ready in two weeks. The Council voted to advise Mr. Burton of Tuesday night's action and ask him to keep his child inside the house on Sunday afternoons until completion.

The next Well Baby Conference at the House of Neighborhood Service, 422 E. Royal Oaks, Monrovia is scheduled for Thursday, Nov. 23, as was announced this week by Dr. C. C. Burski, district county health officer.

The conference is open to parents who have pre-school children not under the care of a private physician. Mothers receive consultation on matters pertaining to the health of the child, including tips on diet, health habits, and parent-child relationships. Vaccination against whooping cough and tetanus also are available at the conference.

Appointments may be made by phoning the Monrovia Health Center, Dr. Burski said.

C. S. Kersting, Early Pioneer, Dies in L. A.

Charles S. Kersting, early Sierra Madre pioneer, passed away early yesterday morning, Nov. 15, in Los Angeles.

Kersting Court, one of Sierra Madre's principal streets, is named after Mr. Kersting who did much of the working and planning for the downtown shopping center as it is today.

It was Mr. Kersting who exchanged acreage at Hermosa and Highland for the public school grounds at Central (Sierra Madre boulevard) and Baldwin, and subsequently constructed most of the stores there.

The early resident also was conflict between cars and pedestrians.

The Council ordered the painting of three more pedestrian crosswalks for the intersection of Lima and Sierra Madre boulevard. It was pointed out that a "school sally" sign was unnecessary at that corner in view of the fact that it already is a four-way stop and now has pedestrian crosswalks on all four sides.

Best Seller Tells Humorous Episodes in Priest's Life

BY ISABEL STRADLEY

THE LITTLE WORLD OF DON CAMILLO: This is an engaging collection of humorous episodes translated from the Italian. They concern the daily life of the village priest in a small town in Italy, Don Camillo, and his arch-enemy, the Communist Peppone. Peppone is the village mayor and a man of supreme authority. The book is mildly satirical, but written with tenderness and warm tolerance with a laugh on every page. Christian principles as opposed to Communist totalitarian dogmas create grave issues, but whenever Peppone gets too much for the militant priest, the latter retreats to the altar to talk things over with Christ. Some of their decisions are hilarious.

KON-TIKI, by Thor Heyerdahl: This is the story of a great exploit that rivals anything to be found in world literature. It is the account of six young men who risked their lives for 101 days on a primitive raft, drifting across the Pacific. They wanted to prove a scientific theory—that Polynesia may have been settled originally, not by the Asiatics, but by men who crossed the ocean from Peru!

Aside from the factual content, the book holds a special enchantment for the reader, as it is touched with the magic of Mr. Heyerdahl's pen—he is a born story-teller. Indeed the writing takes its place with that of a Melville or Conrad.

NUTS IN MAY, by Cornelius Otis Skinner: This is an entertaining collection, gay and slightly mad as usual, from the pen of the versatile Miss Skinner.

Christmas fashions will be emphasized in the presentation by Merry's of Arcadia, hats by Minnie Moss Clark, and children's clothes will be presented by the Kiddie Kottage.

Raiders Bow To Burbank Pilots 8-5

Ending a 11-game winning streak, the Sierra Madre VFW Raiders finally went down in defeat Sunday afternoon, bowing to the Burbank Pilots, 5 to 8.

The Pilots got off to a six-run lead in the first two innings, and the Raiders never were able to overcome the deficit.

Right-fielder Franco led the Sierra Madreans' hitting with three singles for his four times at bat. The Raiders collected 10 hits to the Pilots' 12. Both teams committed two miscues.

Pitcher Emirhanian permitted six hits for six runs in the first two frames. Stuive also allowed six hits for the other two runs during the rest of the game.

Sierra Madreans getting two-base hits during the afternoon were Dixon, Nielson, Evans, and Stuive.

Next Sunday, the Raiders meet the Los Angeles Yankees, reported to be the best colored team in Southern California. The game starts at 1:30 p.m.
